REPORT, &c.

The COMMITTEE appointed to examine and ſtate the ſeveral Accounts and other Papers preſented to the Houſe in this Seſſion of Parliament, relating to the Public Income and Expenditure; and alſo to report to the Houſe what may be expected to be the Annual Amount of the ſaid Income and Expenditure in future,

HAVING proceeeded to the Conſideration of the Matters referred to them by the Houſe, have arranged the ſeveral Papers relating thereto under diſtinct Heads, containing the different Articles of the Public Income and Expenditure.

But before they enter on the Firſt Part of their Report, they think it neceſſary to premiſe, that they have confined their Examination to the preſent State of the Revenue, as it appears either from the Amount actually received in the Periods contained in the Papers referred to them, or from the beſt Eſtimates which they could form of the Produce of ſuch Articles as had not been brought to Account in thoſe Periods, but compoſe, nevertheleſs, a Part of the preſent Income of the Public. The large Amount of Taxes impoſed ſince the Commencement of the late War, in Addition to the then ſub-sisting Revenue; the Difficulties under which the different Branches of our Commerce laboured during the Continuance of that War; and the great and increasing Prevalence of Smuggling previous to the Measures recently adopted for its Suppression, appeared to Your Committee to render any Averages of the Amount of the Revenue in former Periods in a great Degree inapplicable to the present Situation of the Country: On the other Hand, they did not think themselves competent to discuss the various Contingencies which may in future operate to the Increase or Diminution of the Public Income. A Revenue so complicated in its Nature, and depending so much on the various Branches of an extensive Commerce, must always be liable to temporary Fluctuations, even although no Circumstances should arise to occasion any permanent Alteration in its Produce. Your Committee have, therefore, judged it proper to submit to the Wisdom of the House this extensive Consideration, and to state in this Report the present Amount of the Public Income, as resulting from the Papers before them.

SECTION

SECTION I.

THE Net Produce of the different Branches of Revenue, paid into the Exchequer in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, appears to have been as follows, viz. (Appendix A. No. 1.)

Customs - - -	£. 4,520,820	4,586,463
Excise - - - -	£. 5,282,342	5,342,642
Stamps - - -	£. 1,157,549	1,162,695
Incidents - - -	£. 1,360,809	1,358,115
Total - -	£. 12,321,520	£12,499,916

But Your Committee find, that in this Period there had been paid by the East India Company a Sum, for respited Arrears of Customs, amounting to £. 401,118; which Sum, as not resulting from the regular Course of the Revenue, is to be deducted from the Total above stated. (Ap. A. No. 2.)

The Average Net Payment into the Exchequer, for Ten Years, ending at Michaelmas 1785, of the Duties imposed by the 6th of His present Majesty on Houses and Widows, amounted annually to (Ap. A. No. 3.) £. 418,497, nearly.

It appears, however, that the gross Charge, according to the Account laid before the House, of the last Assessment for England, was only (Ap. A. No. 4.) £. 401,397

But this Account not including the Returns from the Surveyors of Eight Districts, Your Committee have added a Sum proportioned to the Amount of the Returns for those Districts in 1784 (Ap. A. No. 5.) £. 12,805

making in the Whole £. 414,202

From which must be deducted the Salaries of the Commissioners, Clerks, and Surveyors, and the incidental Expences of this and all the other Duties under the same Management; the whole being charged to the Account of this Duty (Ap. A. No. 6.) — — — £. 19,916

Brought over — —		£. 19,916
And alſo the Charges of Management on this Duty, amounting at 6½*d.* in the Pound, to (Ap. A. No. 6.) — —		£. 11,218
		£. 31,134
The Remainder will be — —		£. 383,068
To this muſt be added the Produce of the ſaid Duty, which may be expected from Scotland; the Net Payments of which amounted, on the Average of 10 Years, ending Michaelmas 1785, to (Ap. A. No. 3.)	5,871	nearly.
Making in all —		£. 388,939
But the Sum received on this head, in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, appears to have been (Ap. A. No. 3.) —		£. 435,128

The difference therefore between that Sum and the Amount at which the preſent Produce of this Duty is eſtimated above, muſt be further deducted from the Amount of Taxes received in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785.

This Difference is — — — £. 46,189

It ſhould be obſerved, that this Account is framed on the Aſſeſſments for the laſt Year, and that no Credit is taken for the Surcharges, which will probably be much more than ſufficient to balance the Amount of Diſcharges, or other accidental Deficiencies. Some Eſtimate of the Surcharges may be formed from the Papers in the Ap. A. No. 7 and 8.

Theſe two Sums of £. 401,119, and £. 46,189, being deducted from the Total Receipt above ſtated, will leave a Sum of £. 11,874,213.

To this are to be added the further Sums which have accrued, or may be eſtimated to be the Produce of any Part of the preſent Revenue, not brought to Account in that period.

SECT. II. IT appears that the Amount of the Aſſeſſment on all Inhabited Houſes in England, for the Year ending on the 5th of April 1786, under the Act of the 24th of His preſent Majeſty, was (Ap. B. No. 1.) — £. 492,555

But the Returns from the Surveyors of Eight Diſtricts not being included in this Account, Your Committee have added a Sum proportioned to that aſſeſſed upon thoſe Diſtricts in the Half Year ending 5th April 1784 (Ap. B. No. 1.) — — £. 15,000

To this muſt be added the Aſſeſſment for One Year in Scotland, which Your Committee have eſtimated, on the Aſſeſſment for the Half Year ending 5th April 1785, at (Ap. B. No. 2.) — — — £. 16,533

Making in the Whole — 524,088

From which muſt be deducted the Charges of Management; which, at 6½*d.* in the Pound, amount to (Ap. B. No. 3.) £. 14,194

The Remainder will be — £. 509,894

No Credit is here taken for Surcharges. The whole Sum paid to the Receiver General of the Cuſtoms, on this Head, and by him paid into the Exchequer, in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, was (Ap. B. No. 4.) — — — £. 129,838 nearly.

The Difference therefore between that Sum and the eſtimated Produce of this Duty, as above, muſt be added to the Amount of Taxes received for the Year ending Michaelmas 1785.

This Difference is — £. 380,056

SECT. III. IT

SECT. III. IT appears that the Amount of the Assessment on two Wheel and four Wheel Carriages, under the new Mode of collecting those Duties, was, for Three Quarters of a Year ending the 5th of April 1786 (Ap. C. No. 1. £. 107,849

Add One third — 35,949

Assessment for One Year — £. 143,798

But the Account of these Assessments not including 14 Returns, Your Committee have estimated their Produce (not thinking the Assessments for the House Tax proper for this Comparison) by the Proportion which the Assessments for the Servants Tax in those Districts bore to the whole Assessments for that Tax, when formerly under the same Management under which the Carriage Duty is now placed: (Ap. C. No. 2.)

This Proportion gives a Sum of — £. 7,818

And the whole will then be — £. 151,616

From this are to be deducted the Charges of Management, at 6½ d. per Pound, amounting to (Ap. C. No. 3.) — £. 4,106 nearly

Which leaves the estimated Net Produce at £. 147,510

Add the Produce to be expected from Scotland, taken at the Average of Three Years Net Produce, under the Management of the Excise, upon which however there may probably be some increase under the present Mode of Collection, as is the Case in England (Ap. C. No. 4) — £. 8,500

Total estimated Produce of this Duty for One Year — — — £. 156,010

The Sum paid on this Account into the Exchequer, between Michaelmas 1784 and Michaelmas 1785, appears to have been (Ap. A. No. 1.) — — £. 84,113

To which must be added, for Three 5 per Cents. payable thereon, pursuant to several Acts of Parliament — — £. 12,616

Total paid in that Period — £. 96,729

The Difference, therefore, between that Sum and the eſtimated Net Produce of the Tax for One Year, under its preſent Management, muſt be added to the Produce, as above ſtated, of all the Taxes in the Year ending Michaelmas 1785.

This Difference amounts to — £. 59,281

It is to be obſerved, that in this Account alſo no Credit is taken for Surcharges.

SECT. IV. IN the Act of the 25th C. 43. of his preſent Majeſty, for repealing the Duties on Servants, and for impoſing new Duties in lieu thereof, it was provided, That £. 51,000 of the Produce of the Duties ſo impoſed ſhould be carried to the Account of the Duties impoſed in 1777; from the Nature however of the Aſſeſſments under that Act, and the Period of their Commencement, no Payment had been made on this Account in the Year ending at Michaelmas laſt; but there (Ap. A. No. 1.) had been received, under the old Mode of Collection - - £. 21,041

Which Sum, together with Three Five per Cents. thereon, amounting to about - 3,156

makes - £. 24,197

There remains therefore to be added on this Account to the Produce of the Exciſe, for the Year ending at Michaelmas laſt - - £. 26,803

SECT. V. THE Aſſeſſment of the Duties on Horſes, under the Act of the 25th of His preſent Majeſty, if taken for Year, amounts to - (Ap. C. No. 1.) - £. 134,230

And that of the Duties on Waggons and Carts, under the Act of the 25th of His preſent Majeſty, if taken for the ſame Period, amounts to (Ap. C. No. 1.) - - £. 29,546

Making together - - £. 163,776

To

To which may be added, for 14 Diſtricts not returned, but eſtimated, on the proportion above ſtated with reſpect to the Carriage Tax (Ap. C. No. 2.) — — £. 8,90

The Whole will then be - 172,68

From which muſt be deducted, for Charges of Management, at 6½*d.* in the Pound. (Ap. C. No. 3.) — — — £. 4,67

Which reduces the eſtimated Net Produce to £. 168,00

Add for Scotland — — — 10,00

The Aſſeſſments not being yet come in, and that Sum being nearly in the Proportion of the Payments on the Carriage Tax from that Part of Great-Britain, computed as above;

Total — — £. 178,00

And as it appears that there had been paid into the Exchequer, on this Account, in the year ending at Michaelmas 1785, for the Duty on Horſes (Ap. D. No. 1.) — — £. 106,85

And for the Duty on Waggons and Carts (D. No. 2) £. 14,32

Making together (nearly) - £. 121,17

The Difference muſt be added to the produce, as above ſtated, of all the Taxes for that Year

This difference amounts to — — £. 56,82

SECT. VI. IN examining into the Produce of the Taxes impoſed in the Year 1784 (excluſive of the Horſe Tax) Your Committee obſerve that they had produced, in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, the Sum of (Ap. E. No. 1.

£. 482,04

But that in the Year ending January 5th 1786 the ſame Taxes had produced (Ap. E. No. 2.) - £. 563,22

As it appears reasonable, in this Instance, to consider the latter Period as affording a juster Ground for estimating the probable Annual Produce of Taxes so recently imposed, they have added on this Account, to the general Amount received in the Year ending at Michaelmas, a further Sum of £. 81,178, being the Difference between the two Sums above stated.

Many of these Taxes can perhaps hardly yet be supposed to have paid a compleat Year's Produce into the Exchequer. Particularly it appears to Your Committee (by an Account from the Stamp Office inserted in the Appendix) that in Consequence of the Act of last Session for better collecting the Duty on Game Licences, there has been actually received by the Stamp Distributors, between 5th January 1785 and 5th January 1786, the Sum of (Ap. F. No 1.) - £. 50,889

From this should be deducted the Charges of Collection (which Your Committee find cannot be yet accurately ascertained, but which may be estimated at rather more than 5 per Cent.) making about — £. 2,500

The Remainder will be somewhat above — £. 48,000

But in the foregoing comparative Statement, only £. 25,953 is included in this Account as paid into the Exchequer in the Year ending 5th January 1786. (Ap. F. No. 2. A. No. 9.)

The Difference therefore, being about £. 22,000, is to be added to the Sum of £. 81,178 above stated; making in the Whole about — £. 103,000

SECT. VII. YOUR Committee next proceed to state such Estimates as they are enabled to form on the Information which they have procured respecting the Produce of the Taxes imposed in the Year 1785. It was naturally to be expected that a very small Part of such Produce could have been received at the Exchequer previous to Michaelmas last; whatever therefore may appear to be the further Annual Amount of those Taxes, must be added to the other Articles of Annual Receipt.

The Amount of the Assessment in England to the Shop Tax, for Three Quarters of a Year, ending on the 5th of April 1786, is (Ap. C. No. 1.) —— £. 55,481

Add One Third for the remaining Quarter — £. 18,494

Assessment for One Year —— —— £. 73,975

Add for 14 Districts not returned, but taken at the Proportion which those Districts bore to the Remainder of the Assessments for 1784, under the Window Duty 6 Geo. III. (Ap. G. No. 1.) - 4,100

Total for England — £. 78,075

Deduct Charges of Management, at 6½*d. per* Pound (Ap. C. No. 3.) —— —— —— £. 2,114

Remains £. 75,961

Add for Scotland, on the Proportion taken above, under the Article of the Window Duty 6 G. III. £. 1,164

Total Produce of the Shop Tax, no Credit being taken for Surcharges — £. 77,125

But if the Reduction which has been proposed this Session on different Parts of this Duty should be carried into Effect, Your Committee apprehend that it will diminish the above Sum by about a Sixth Part thereof;

They have therefore taken this Article only at £. 64,271

The Assessments on Male and Female Servants for Three Quarters of a Year, ending 8th April 1786, amount to £. 91,424

Add One Third as above (Ap. C. No. 1.) 30,475 nearly

Total — £. 121,899

Add for 14 Districts on the Proportion which those Districts bore to the whole Assessments on Male Servants in 1780 (Ap. C. No. 2.) —— —— £. 6,627

Total Assessment for England £. 128,526

Deduct

Deduct Charges of Management, at 6½d. per Pound. (Ap. C. No. 3.) —— £. 3,481

Remains —— £. 125,045

Add for Scotland, on the Proportion of the Average Remittance, for Three Years under the Exciſe (Ap. H. No. 1.) —— 9,803

Total —— £. 134,848

Deduct, for what is ordered by Act of Parment to be carried to the Account of the Taxes of 1777, and for which Credit is taken above (Sect. 4.) —— —— £. 51,000

Remains, Net Produce of this Tax £. 83,848

It is more difficult to form any Eſtimate of the Amount of the Remainder of the Taxes impoſed in 1785. They are not collected by the Mode of Aſſeſſment; and the Sums which they have hitherto produced, in the ſhort Period ſince they became payable, afford a very imperfect Ground for judging of their future Amount; eſpecially as they are, for the moſt Part, Stamp Duties, and as a conſiderable Time always intervenes between the actual Receipt of thoſe Duties in the diſtant Parts of the Country, and the Time of their being remitted to the Head Office in London.

It will obviouſly occur to the Houſe, that this Circumſtance muſt render Accounts of this Nature particularly defective, when they relate to Taxes ſo recently impoſed.

Your Committee, having pointed out the Imperfection of theſe Accounts, will proceed however to ſtate the beſt Computations they have been able to form thereon.

The Duty on Pawnbrokers conſiſts in an Annual Licence for exerciſing that Trade, and took place on the 5th July 1785. There was paid at the Stamp Office in Town, and remitted from the Country, on this Account, in the Period between July 1785 and February 1786, both incluſive, being Eight Months, a Sum of (Ap. I. No. 1.) £. 3,740

Your Committee have added, as an Allowance for Money to be received in Town, and remitted from the Country, in the Remainder of the Year — 1,260

And have taken the Produce of this Duty at — 5,000

The Tax on Attornies conſiſts in Part of an Annual Licence for the Perſons exerciſing that Profeſſion, and in Part of a Duty on Warrants for Licence to ſue.

The Tax took place on the 1ſt November 1785, and in the Month of November 1785 there was paid on this Account, at the Office in Town, the Sum of £. 8,996 (Ap. I. No. 2.)

In the Three following Months there was paid in Town, on an Average, the Sum of £. 979 per Month.

Nothing was remitted in the Month of November from the Country on this Account. In the Three following Months there was remitted, in all, the Sum of £. 1,080.

Of the Payments in Town it appears that about £. 6,315 aroſe from the Produce of the Annual Licences in London, and about £. 1,283 from that of Annual Licences for Attornies in the Country; amounting together to £. 7,598. The Remainder, amounting to about £. 4,301, was paid for the Duty on Warrants to ſue.

If, therefore, the whole Amount of Annual Licences to be received in Town is taken at £. 8,000, and from £. 8,000 to £. 10,000 be allowed for the Annual Amount of Warrants to ſue, the whole Produce in Town would be from £. 16,000 to £. 18,000.

With reſpect to the Payments in the Country, the Accounts do not diſtinguiſh how much of them has been received for the Two different Branches of this Duty; nor is there ſufficient Ground to eſtimate the future Remittances on the Average of thoſe in the Three Months included in thoſe Accounts; as it appears that the Remittance in the laſt Month is nearly equal to thoſe in the Two others. Your Committee however conceive that the whole of this Duty, including the Remittances from the Country, may not improperly be taken at about £. 20,000

On

On Account of the Glove Duty there was paid at the Head Office in London, in Seven Months, ending February 1786 — £. 2,418
Which gives an Annual Produce of (Ap. I. No 1.) 6,845
There was remitted from the Country in the Four laſt of thoſe Months — £. 1,075
Which gives an Annual Produce of — — £. 3,225

Total £. 9,070

Which Your Committee conceive may be ſtated at £. 10,000, making Allowances for the Remittances not received from the Country, and from Scotland.

In the Act of (25 Geo. III. c. 63.) the laſt Seſſion for reducing the Allowance for Waſte on Salt, it was directed that £. 12,000 ſhould be Annually ſet apart under that Head; Your Committee have not the Means of judging from any Accounts which they could procure, what may be the future Amount of this Duty under the new Regulation, but have ſtated it at the Sum taken in the Act, which is £. 12,000.

For the Purpoſe of ſtating more accurately the Produce to be expected from the additional Duty on Poſt Horſes impoſed in the laſt Seſſion, as well as the old Duty on Poſt Horſes, and that on Stage Carriages (both of which were then conſolidated with the new Duty) Your Committee called for the annexed Return from the Stamp Office of the Produce of the Poſt Horſe Duty impoſed in 1780, from its Commencement to the Year 1785 inclusive. (Ap. I. No. 3.)

From theſe Returns it appears, that the Total Produce in London of the Poſt Horſe Duty impoſed in 1780 was nearly £. 144,705, and that the Sum of £. 408,143 was remitted from the Country in the ſame Period.

The Total Produce of the new conſolidated Duty in London, for the Six Months, appears to have been £. 22,187, which is at the Rate of £. 44,374 a Year; the Annual Produce of the ſame including the Country, according to the Proportion above ſtated, would be £. 169,536; as, however, in the Year ending at Michaelmas, £. 96,000 nearly appears to have been received received under the old Duty on Poſt Horſes; and as in the ſame Period it appears that about £. 23,000 was received for the Duty on Stage Carriages, theſe two Sums, amounting to £. 119,000, are to be deducted from £. 169,536, in order to give the expected future Produce, and will leave £. 50,000. (Ap. A. No. 1.)

Your Committee think it right further to obſerve, that an Improvement has alſo been made in the Revenue, in Addition to the Produce of the Taxes of 1785, by the Operation of the Act of the laſt Seſſion for the better Collection of the Duty before ſubſiſting on Medicines.

It appears by the Appendix, that the Produce was no more than £. 1,592 in London, in the Year ending the 1ſt Auguſt 1785, and that the Produce in the ſame Diſtrict was £. 6,088 18*s.* 9*d.* between the 1ſt September 1785, when the new Law took Effect, and the 11th Inſtant; which is at the Rate of £. 13,274 a Year. (Ap. K. No. 1. and 2.)

It alſo appears, that the whole Amount of the Duty, in the Year ending 1ſt Auguſt 1785, was £. 3,860, of which £. 1,592 was paid in London, and £. 2,268 in the Country; ſuppoſing, therefore, the Produce in Town and the Country to bear the ſame Proportion, the Sum of £. 18,940 nearly may be expected to be raiſed in the latter, which, added to the Sum of £. 13,274, expected in London, will amount to £. 32,185 from which deducting £. 5 per Cent. for the eſtimated Charge of Collection, the Remainder will be ſomewhat above £. 30,000. (Ap. K. No. 3.)

The Difference between this Sum and £. 3,860 (being the former Produce) is about £. 26,000; this Sum, if added to the Taxes of 1785, as already ſtated, will make the whole amount to about £. 271,000, from which is to be deducted £. 6,175, ſo much having been paid in on Account of the Taxes of 1785, previous to Michaelmas in the ſame Year. (Ap. A. No. 1.)

The Remainder will be £. 265,000 nearly.

SECT. VIII. IT further appears, by an Act of the 1st of His present Majesty, C. 1. that a Part of the Sum assigned by Act of Parliament for the Support of His Majesty's Household, to the Amount of £. 12,000, is paid by the Receiver General of the Excise before the Net Produce of that Revenue is paid into the Exchequer—This Sum is therefore to be added to the Head of Receipt.

And a sum of £. 2,000 paid by the Alienation Office is for a similar Reason to be included in like Manner.

They amount together to £. 14,000.

SECT. IX. THE Duties on Land and Malt, although they are Annual Grants, and form therefore no Part of the settled Revenue of the Country, appeared to Your Committee to be proper to be included in this Report, especially as the Services for which they are usually granted are hereafter inserted under the different Heads of Expenditure.

It appears, by the Account in the Appendix, that the whole Produce of the Land Tax for Seven Years, ending at Lady-Day 1782, being the last compleat Years of a Four Shillings Aid, was (Ap. L. No. 1.) —— —— £. 13,380,599

To which is to be added, being the Amount paid on Account of the Militia in those Years, previous to the Payment of this Duty into the Exchequer, the Sum of (Ap. L. No. 2 and 3.) £. 392,954

Total £. 13,773,553

Average of One Year £. 1,967,650

The Produce of the Malt Duties for the same Period was 4,319,069, which would give an Average of £. 617,010

But in this Period is included the Year 1782, in which the Produce of Malt was uncommonly deficient. If the Average were taken on the preceding Six Years, it would amount to above £. 657,000; but if it is stated as low as £. 632,350, the whole Amount of Land and Malt would be £. 2,600,000.

‡ The

The foregoing Accounts of the Public Revenue are formed on the Ground of the actual Receipts in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, with such Alterations and Additions as the different Circumstances which have been stated relative to them appeared to Your Committee to require. But as it was thought important that the House should be informed what Difference would have arisen in the Result, if the calculations had been grounded on the Receipts of the Year ending in January 1786, Your Committee have investigated those Accounts, proceeding by the same Steps, and on the same Principles, which they have detailed to the House in stating the Particulars of the former Period. The Vouchers relating thereto are inserted in the Appendix, (Ap. A. No. 9 and 10 B. No. 4, F. No. 1 and 2.) And in order to place the whole Subject referred to them in the clearest Light, they have annexed to their Report an Abstract of the different Accounts, in which they have brought into One Point of View the Amount of the several Heads of Public Expenditure, as well as the Produce of the several Branches of the Revenue, as resulting from their Examination of the Two Periods which have been mentioned.

27

But they think it necessary to remark, that the Account to Michaelmas 1785 includes Fifty-three Days of Weekly Payment, and that Fifty-two only are included in the Account ending on the 5th January 1786. The House will, however, observe that as far as the Result of these Accounts differ, which they do not in any considerable Degree, that Difference is in Favour of the Revenue in the latter Period.

Your Committee having thus investigated the Amount of the several Articles of the public Revenue, proceed to state in like Manner the several Branches of Expenditure.

SECT. X. The Annual Interest and other Charges payable on the Public Debts, as they stood at the Receipt of His Majesty's Exchequer on the 5th of January 1786, amount to £. 9,266,940. (Ap. M. No. 1.)

In Addition to this, the Interest at 3 per Cent. on £. 1,000,000 charged on the 6*d. per £.* on Pensions, by the Act 12 Geo. and the Charges of Management thereon, amount to £. 30,3 (Ap. M. No. 2.)

The Charges of Management on £. 10,090,651, £. 5 per Cent. Annuities, funded in 1785, were computed at £. 6,182.—These Sums amount in the whole to £. 9,303,482. (Ap. M. No. 2 & 3.

But it appears to Your Committee, that ſince the Time of making up the Accounts which have been laid before the Houſe on this Subject, a Diminution has taken place in the Charges of Management payable to the Bank of England, to the Amount of £. 24,853. If a ſimilar Reduction may be expected in the Charges of that Part of the Public Debt which is under the Management of the South Sea Company, the total Saving will amount to £. 27,713. (Ap. M. No. 4)

Which being deducted from the above Sum, leaves a Remainder of £. 9,275,769.

It is to be obſerved, that a Part of the Annual Payment to the Public Creditors conſiſts of Annuities, which will gradually fall in at the Expiration of the Terms for which they were granted. An Account of theſe, ſtating the Dates at which they were reſpectively created, and the Periods at which they expire, is inſerted in the Appendix. (Ap. M. No. 5.)

Your Committee think it not improper to obſerve particularly that Annuities, to the Amount of £. 25,351, will determine on the 5th April 1787.

SECT. XI. YOUR Committee called for an Eſtimate of the Expence likely to be incurred under the Head of Exchequer Bills from the Lords Commiſſioners of His Majeſty's Treaſury; which is inſerted in the Appendix. (Ap. N.)

The future Charge on this Article, after the preſent Year, is there eſtimated at £. 258,000, ſubject to the Obſervation therein ſtated.

SECT. XII. THE Sum charged on the Aggregate Fund, and payable at the Exchequer for the Support of His Majeſty's Houſehold, is £. 886,000; and there is further paid, for the ſame Purpoſe, a Sum of £. 12,000 at the Exciſe, by an Act of the Firſt of His preſent Majeſty; and a Sum of £. 2,000 is paid at the Alienation Office, and makes Part of the Civil Liſt. Theſe Sums amount in the whole to £. 900,000.

SECT. XIII. EXCLUSIVE of any Part of the Intereſt, and of the Charges of the Public Debts, and of the Sum paid towards the Civil Liſt, there are other Payments charged upon and payable out of the Aggregate Fund. (Ap. O.)

They conſiſt in Part of Annuities which will gradually ceaſe; but Your Committee, not judging it proper to form any Eſtimate of ſuch Diminution, have taken the whole at the preſent Amount thereof, which is £. 64,600.

SECT. XIV. IT appeared by the Papers referred to Your Committee, relative to the ſeveral Services of the Navy, Army, and Ordnance, that the Average of thoſe Services reſpectively, for the Years 1766, 1767, 1768, and 1769, were as follows:

For the Navy, including the Expence of Ordnance for Sea Service (Ap. P. No. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5.)	£. 1,660,218
For the Army (Ap. Q. No. 1, 2, and 3.)	1,516,631
For the Land Service of the Ordnance (Ap. R. No. 1 and 2.) — — —	287,165

The Expence on theſe ſeveral Heads for the preſent Year appear, by the Eſtimates now before the Houſe, to be conſiderably larger; but Your Committee obſerving that theſe Expences may be expected to vary, and that many Particulars thereof muſt neceſſarily be reduced in future, have called for additional Statements from the ſeveral Offices; according to thoſe Statements, which are annexed to this Report, the expected Average Expence of the ſeveral Services above mentioned, on a permanent Peace Eſtabliſhment, appears to be as follows:

For the Navy, including the Expence of Ordnance for Sea Service (Ap. P. No. 6.) ——	£. 1,800,000
For the Army (Ap. Q. No. 4.) ——	1,620,000

But as in this Eſtimate no Credit is taken for the expected Diminution therein ſtated, in the Article of Bills of Exchange drawn from the Colonies and Plantations, and in the Half Pay and Chelsea Out Pension, Your Committee conceive themselves justified in taking the Average Expence of this Department at £. 1,600,000

It is proper however to observe, that nothing is here allowed for the Expence arising from the Regiments in India; on which Account, in the Extraordinaries presented this Session, there is charged a Sum of £. 77,944, which is not included in the Sum above stated.

The East-India Company being to pay a certain Sum for every Regiment in India, by an Act of the 21st of His present Majesty, this Charge is in Fact only a temporary Advance, for which the Public will have Credit to an equal Amount hereafter, whenever Remittances are made from India, and the Demands under that Act are brought to Account.

The estimated Expence for the Land Service of the Ordnance is £. 348,000. (Ap. R. No. 3.)

In stating the Total of these Services, Your Committee think it necessary to take Notice, that various Charges are included, on Account of Half Pay, Chelsea Out Pensioners, and other Allowances of a similar Nature, amounting in the whole to £. 683,325.

SECT. XV. THE Annual Charge incurred on Account of the Militia, for the Years 1775, 1776, and 1777, the last three Years of Peace in which the Militia was trained and exercised, appears, by the Accounts referred to Your Committee, to have been, on an Average, £. 128,000 nearly.

But they conceive that, if the Reductions which have been proposed in this Session in the Expence of this Branch of the National Service should be carried into Effect, the whole will amount in future only to about £. 91,000; at which Sum they have accordingly taken it, subject however to such Variation as may arise from any Alterations in the Plan which is now under the Consideration of Parliament.

SECT. XVI. THE Expence of the different Articles uſually included under the Head of Miſcellaneous Services is ſtated in the annexed Eſtimate thereof (which has been received by Your Committee from the Lords Commiſſioners of His Majeſty's Treaſury) at £. 74,274. (Ap. S.)

SECT. XVII. IT appears by the Account in the Appendix, that a Part of the Annual Produce of the public Revenue is not applicable to the Payment of any Part of the Intereſt of the National Debts, or of the general Services of the Country, but is appropriated to certain ſpecial Purpoſes, not included under any of the foregoing Heads of Charge. (Ap. T.)

The Amount of the Taxes ſo appropriated forms therefore another Article of Expenditure. They appear to have produced, in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, £. 66,538.

There are ſome Charges on the Poſt Office, and other Offices of Revenue, ariſing from different Grants and Acts of Parliament, by which certain Annuities are made payable thereon; but, as theſe are iſſued at the different Offices of Collection previous to the Payment into the Exchequer, Your Committee have not brought them to Account under the Head of public Expenditure; the Sums by which they are defrayed not being ſtated on the other Side as any Part of the public Receipt.

The Total of the ſeveral Articles above ſtated, compoſing the whole of the Annual Expenditure of the Country, amounts to £. 14,478,181.

There are ſome additional Articles, both of Expenditure and Receipt, of which Your Committee think it right to take Notice, though they have not inſerted them in their Abſtract, conſidering them improper to be included in Accounts of the permanent Peace Eſtabliſhment of the Country, and of its preſent Annual Revenue. The Firſt Article of this Deſcription, and probably the moſt conſiderable, conſiſts of the additional Demands which may be made for the Service of the Navy before it is put completely on the Footing on which the future Peace Eſtabliſhment is calculated: Theſe cannot be ſtated with

Preciſion

Preciſion; but it appears, from the Account delivered by the Navy Board, that the probable Amount may be from £.1,200,000 to £. 1,600,000. (Ap. P. No. 6.)

In this Article no Proviſion appears to be made for the preſent outſtanding Debt of the Navy: Your Committee find that on the 31ſt of December 1785 it did amount to £2,537,764; towards the ſatisfying which there remained to be applied £.825,275; Remainder £. 1,712,489. But it is ſtated that from the Delay in calling for Payment of many of the Charges of which it is compoſed, a floating Arrear to this Extent may generally be expected to ſubſiſt; and as it neither bears Intereſt in its preſent Shape, nor will require to be funded, it cannot occaſion, either in preſent or in future any Addition to the Annual Charge upon the Public. (Ap. U.)

Under the Head of Miſcellaneous Expences, there may alſo ariſe ſome temporary Exceeding beyond the Annual Amount ſtated by the Committee. Theſe, however, they conceive will for the moſt Part either be occaſional, or at leaſt of ſhort Duration; but, from the Nature of this Head of Expence, it is impoſſible to foreſee with Certainty the particular Demands.

The only Article to which Your Committee think it neceſſary, ſeparately, to call the Attention of the Houſe, is that of the Relief of the American Sufferers; but it is not for the Committee to determine what Sum Parliament may think proper to allot for this Purpoſe, either as temporary Relief, or when the Inveſtigation of the ſeveral Claims ſhall have been completed.

From what has been ſtated, the Houſe will obſerve that no accurate Eſtimate can be formed of the Total Sums which may ariſe beyond the average Amount of the Expences before ſtated, and which may therefore require a ſeparate Proviſion. But upon the whole Your Committee conceive that the Means of defraying the Expences (excluſive of the average Income above ſtated) may be expected to be ſufficient for the Purpoſe.

In the Firſt Place, Your Committee have taken no Credit in the foregoing Statements for the Profits which may Annually be expected from Lotteries, whenever Parliament ſhall think proper to avail itſelf of that Mode of raiſing Money.

It

It appears that the Profit on the Lottery of laſt Year was nearly £. 140,000, this alone would be an Addition to the Annual Income, probably greater than the Sum which would be added to the Annual Expenditure, even on the Suppoſition of its being neceſſary to provide Funds for the whole Amount of the contingent Expences above ſtated. (Ap. W. No. 1 & 2.)

A further Sum may alſo be expected to ariſe for ſome Years to come, under the Head of Army Savings. It appears, by the Acts of Appropriation in ſeveral Seſſions, that a Variety of Miſcellaneous Articles of this Deſcription, amounting in the whole to a very large Sum, were brought in Aid of the Army Serviees for ſeveral Years after the Concluſion of the War before the laſt. From the Extent of the Grants for Army Services in the Courſe of the late War ſimilar Savings may naturally be expected, and probably to a larger Amount, as Proviſion has recently been made for a more ſpeedy Inveſtigation of all the depending Accounts.

A Balance is alſo due from the Eaſt India Company, for the Subſiſtence of Troops in India, and on Account of the Victualling of the Navy, purſuant to the 21ſt of His preſent Majeſty, C. 65. The Propriety of applying to public Purpoſes a Portion of the unclaimed Dividends of the Funds (conſiſtently with the ſtricteſt Regard to the Security of the Creditors of the Nation) and the Means of rendering the Crown Lands more beneficial than at preſent, are alſo Objects which ſeem to fall under this Conſideration.

But, independant of the Articles which have here been ſtated, Your Committee truſt that they ſhall not be thought to exceed the Limits of the Duty preſcribed to them by the Houſe, in obſerving, that the preſent ſubſiſting Taxes, if the due Collection thereof could be ſecured by Meaſures adequate to the Purpoſe, would probably afford an ample Proviſion for any Deficiencies which may at any Time be found, either in theſe Reſources, or in the Particulars which compoſe the General Income of the Public; and would inſure a permanent Annual Surplus, applicable to the Reduction of the National Debt, in ſuch Manner as the Wiſdom of Parliament ſhall direct.

um:

There being a Deficiency on the Vote for the Difference between British and Irish Pay of Corps serving Abroad for the Years 1784, 1785, and 1786, about 3,000l. or 4,000l. more will be wanted to complete the Annual Charge.

Appendix Q. No. IV.

THE preſent Peace Eſtabliſhment being conſidered as permanent, the probable Charge attending it muſt be conſidered as continuing the ſame, excepting as to ſuch Diminutions as may in Time take place on the Articles of Half Pay, and Chelſea.

The Extraordinary Expences of the Army may probably be expected to be reduced below the Expence of the preſent Year, according to the Paper annexed to this Report.

Towards defraying theſe Services, it is difficult to ſtate with Preciſion what Savings will accrue.—They muſt chiefly ariſe from the Sums voted upon Eſtimate for the Recruiting and Contingent Services, or from the Savings on Non-effectives; all of which muſt, from their Nature, be fluctuating. But it is probable, that ſuppoſing the Army to continue in theſe Reſpects in its preſent State, there may ariſe Savings to the Amount of about £. 40,000 per Annum, applicable to the defraying the Extraordinary Expences of the Army.
